

CONTENTS FITTINGS

About shintō-gotetsu inscriptions on Myōchin works	9
Arita Sadatsugu's revival of old traditions	12
Copper for the Kinkō artists	17
Suehiro-gari – A small, but fine tsuba by Natsuo	20
From the life of Unnō Shōmin	23
From the life of Unnō Shōmin 2	27
The difficulties with elegance	29
Gotō Chōjō – The secret saver of the Gotō family?	32
Wooden fittings	37
The “Invincibility tsuba ”	40
On Sengoku-era inscriptions on Nobuie tsuba	44
Chinkyū's enkō-hogetsu motif	52
Yagyū-tsuba	57
When the signature stays in the background	63
A kōgai that has passed through many hands	67
Stages in Yasuchika's life	70
A Natsuo motif on a Kajihei blade	75
On the origins of Akasaka-tsuba	80
Tsuba with the “Bird of Prey Catching a Monkey” motif	91
A kozuka full of references	94
Hashitomi	99
The whale as motif on sword fittings	103
A rare motif on a rare work	110
Historic overview of aesthetic requirements for a tsuba – Part I	117
Historic overview of aesthetic requirements for a tsuba – Part II	126
Some thought on Wada-sukashi	133
Maples	140
The Momoyama-era art world – With a focus on Sōtatsu, Kōetsu, and Myōju	146
Cast sword fittings	158
The case of the 5 th generation Hayashi	163
Tobari Tomihisa	169

Tsuba banzuke	177
A very special tsuba by and for Natsuo	182
Altering tsuba signatures	187
Early sukashi motifs	190
Gotō soroi-kanagu	194
The correct reading of certain names	200
A Kyōto collaboration	203
Who wore it better?	213
Humble tsuba , big context	217
“Mysterious” art name	221
Another mysterious placeholder...	224
Hasegawa Katsuaki	226
Why? Trying to connect the dots...	229
Reading another kozuka motif	235

CONTENTS ARMOR AND OTHERS 241

Genji Hachiryō – The Eight Armors of the Minamoto	243
On the practical use of Edo period armor	248
A very golden armor	251
Samurai stubbornness	255
Tosa-Myōchin/Akasaka collaboration	258
The Ashikaga-Takauji armor	262
Honda Shigetsugu’s letter	268